To the future year 7s,

This is an exciting opportunity to advise you on how to be an accomplished Greenfordian for I know what amazing opportunities are ahead of you! I am sure you will do fantastic when coming to Greenford high school, as Greenford High School is in the top 5% of schools and here the teachers can provide the finest education for you.

Importantly, you must know that I was in your shoes-don't worry, to help I will be advising you on how you can reach your potential by being an incredible Greenfordian. Furthermore, I will be telling you how your first day will be like. Even though I was nervous I couldn't help feeling excited, as I got into one of the best schools in Ealing. When you walk in there is an abundance of staff there to support you and your form tutor will tell all you need to know about the school year and help you settle in. In my opinion to be an exceptional Greenfordian you need to be organised and I have a few tips on how to do that:

1. Pack your bag antecedently.
2. Set an alarm and go to bed early.
3. Check you have the appropriate equipment.
4. Complete your homework the day it is appointed.
5. Wear applicable uniform to show you are ready.
6. Be calm and calculated; non impetuous.

Secondly, there are many enjoyable and rewarding opportunities/rewards in Greenford High School. Such as Non-uniform Day, hot Chocolate Friday, cinema Afternoons-for the form with the highest achievement points-and the end-of-year party! Who would want to miss out on that?

If you get the most achievement points in your form you get a cinema afternoon; this is when you miss 3 periods of lessons and go to a hall to watch a movie with your form-there are approximately 18 forms- so you have to work hard(cinema afternoon is one of my favourite rewards.) Amongst this there are many reward trips.

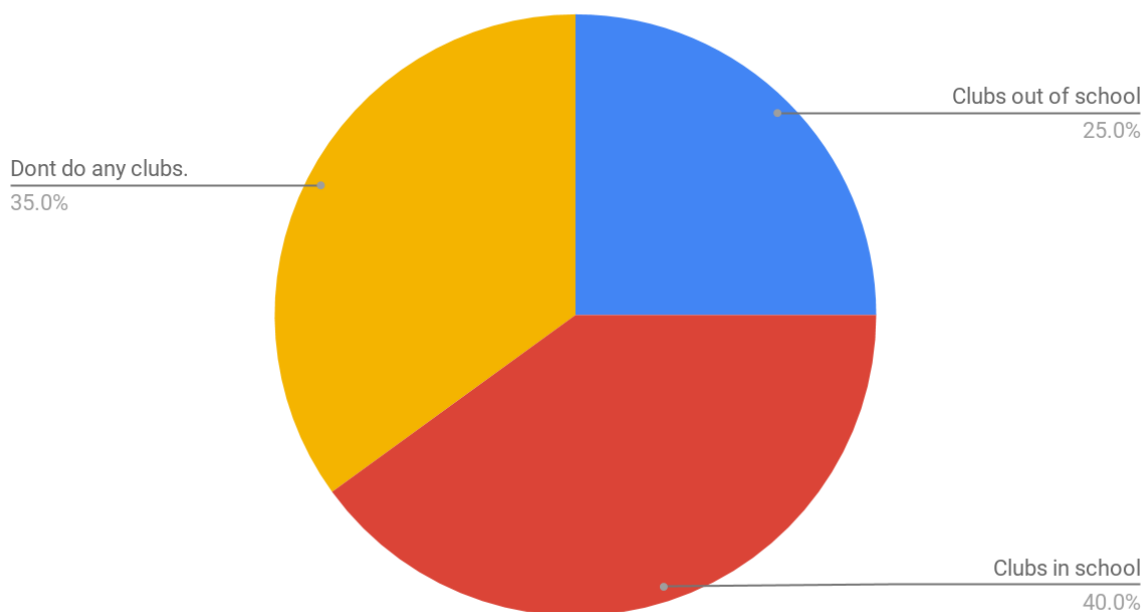

Ready. Respect. Safe. These 3 words are the most crucial in Greenford high school; the key to becoming a suburb Greenfordian. To be ready consistently be at school on time and in ideal uniform, also be on top of your workload. Next is being respectful respect is key, because if you don't show respect you don't get respect back. You can be respectful by: listening to your teacher, contributing, compiling achievement points and bringing forth excellent homework. Finally, you need to be safe for your mental and physical health. You can do this by not talking in the halls and looking forward at all times. Do you think you can follow these rules?

Did you know how many opportunities and extra-curricular activities Greenford High School has to offer? Extra-curricular clubs are an admirable way of making new friends, as many people partake in these aspiring clubs (they also could have similar passions and interests as you.) In school you have many chances to publish your work from: poems, 100 word stories and 500 word stories the opportunities are endless. If you feel like you are doing very well in a sport that GHS has to offer then why join the team of your desired sport!

Points scored

This is the chart showing how many students partake in Clubs in the UK. As you can see many students adjoin clubs, so there is a higher possibility of you making friends.

Finally, my last piece of advice is to be confident with yourself and to let your creativity shine. Be open minded! This will allow you to become the best version of yourself outside of school and inside. Goals, goals, goals in my opinion if you set goals you are more likely to do well this is because you will always have a motive to carry on learning and achieving the best grades that you can. Can you think of your last goal; have you achieved it yet?

I hope that now you have a plethora of ideas on how you can be an excellent Greenfordian. I am counting on you for I know when you will come to GHS you will use my advice to the best of your ability. Remember what Ted Turner said "You should set goals beyond your reach, so you always have something to live for."

Kind regards,

Zara from Year 7.
